Agenda

- » 8(a) Program Overview & Trends
- » Overall Federal Trends
- » Industry Trends
- » Industry + Agency Trends
- » Opportunity Trends
- » Additional Resources
- » Questions and Answers
(time permitting)

How it all got Started

Subcontract Authority

- » 1942 creation of Smaller War Plants Corporation (SWPC), which provided subcontract opportunities for Small Businesses
 - » Small Defense Plants Administration (SDPA) was the Korean War version
- » SDPA folded into the Small Business Administration (SBA) in 1953, to continue these efforts in both war and peacetime
 - » The subcontracting authority was included in Section 8(a) of the Small Business Act of 1958

Evolution of the 8(a) Program

Minority-Owned Focus

- » 1941 President Roosevelt order prohibiting discrimination on the basis of “race, creed, color, or national origin”
 - » Section 8(a) utilization, especially for minority-owned businesses ramped up under Presidents Johnson and Nixon
- » 1973, SBA defined disadvantaged persons
- » 1978 Small Business Act gave SBA authority for 8(a) Program for minority-owned businesses

- » Previous administration planned government-wide SDB Prime Contracting goal increase to 15% by FY 2025
 - » Executive Order (E.O.) # 13985 led to OMB issuing Memorandums to increase goal percentage
- » The E.O. was revoked and the FY 2025 government-wide Prime Contracting Goal has not been released
 - » Unconfirmed whether 15% goal will be maintained decreased, or deeper roll back under new administration
- » FY 2025 agency goals announced late 2024, every goal significantly increased
 - » Unclear whether these goals will be stay firm or rolled back, too

Methodology: Determining Industries

Product Service Classification (PSC)

- » This is what the government is BUYING
- » More granular than NAICS
- » Often used interchangeably with Product Service Code, Federal Supply Classification or just Classification Code
 - » If the PSC starts with a Number, the Government is Buying a Product
 - » If the PSC starts with a Letter, the Government is Buying a Service

North American Industrial Classification System (NAICS)

- » This is what the contractor is SELLING
- » Tied to small business size standards – determine whether a business is small or not
- » Replaced the Standard Industrial Code (SIC)
- » See Appendix at end of slide deck for NAICS Spending Tables

8(a) Eligibility to Win New Contracts and Task Orders

- » The recompile for an 8(a) set-aside or 8(a) sole source will likely also be set aside for 8(a) firms
- » If an 8(a) firm is active in the program as of the ORIGINAL Proposal Deadline, then they can prime an 8(a) Set-Aside opportunity
 - » If an amendment extends the proposal deadline, doesn't matter. The original date stands
- » As long as an IDIQ contract remains active, the incumbent may still win Task Orders, even if they already exited the 8(a) program
- » It is tougher to unseat an incumbent, so if the current prime can not prime the follow-on, the door opens for a new company to enter

NAICS Tables

8(a) Set-Aside Contract Spending by NAICS and Agency, FY 2023 – FY 2024

What's Included:

- » The following tables provide FY 2023 and FY 2024 spending for individual NAICS Codes, further divided with agency spending
 - » The data was limited to contracts and task orders set-aside for 8(a) firms, either on a competitive or sole source basis
 - » Due to volume, the list ONLY includes codes where the agency reported at least one year above $500K in obligated dollars

For a full list of NAICS codes and descriptions, visit the Census site:
<https://www.census.gov/naics/>

GovWin Subscribers Create your own
NAICS Spending Report using Federal Spending Analytics (FSA)

About the Data:

- » The amounts reflected on these tables are in real dollars (as opposed to $K, $M or $B)
- » Red number are negative amounts, which typically occur when the agency reconciles spending.
 - » Such as obligating a larger amount in one fiscal year, then realizing the full amount was not needed, so the obligation was reduced
- » Zero dollars in typically indicate an administrative modification.
- » Blank entries mean not even any administrative modifications were recorded for that code in that fiscal year
- » "DOD Agency" refers to the collective of non-military agencies out of the Department of Defense (DOD)
- » "Independent" (Agencies) refers to the collective of agencies not subject to the Chief Financial Officers (CFO) Act
 - » These agencies are not included in the SBA's Small Business Goals
 - » These agencies tend to have significantly smaller budgets
