FUNDAMENTALS OF KEYWORD RESEARCH

jennifer@totoseo.com
totoseo.com

Keyword research is the foundation of any successful SEO strategy.

It's about understanding what your potential customers are searching for & how to align your content with those searches.

UNDERSTANDING USER INTENT

At Toto SEO, we always start by considering user intent.

There are four main types:

- Informational: Users seeking information
- Navigational: Users looking for a specific website
- Commercial: Users researching before a purchase
- Transactional: Users ready to buy

Understanding intent helps us choose the right keywords and create content that satisfies user needs

Tools for keyword research include:

- Google Keyword Planner
- SEMrush
- Ahrefs
- Moz Keyword Explorer
- UberSuggest
- Backlinko
- SpyFu

CHOOSE KEYWORDS

1 Intent:
What is the user intent?

2 Competition:
How difficult is it to rank for this keyword?"

3 Search volume:
How many people are searching for this term?

SWEET SPOT:

Keywords with the right intent, decent search volume but manageable competition.

This can be quite time-consuming and requires experience to balance effectively

For example, a small local bakery might find it challenging to rank for 'best cakes' but could have success with 'best custom birthday cakes in [city name]'

CONTENT

Content is king in SEO, but not all content is created equal.

Search engines prefer content that is:

- Comprehensive
- Well-structured
- Regularly updated
- Unique and valuable to users

While there's no perfect content length, in-depth, comprehensive content often performs better in search results. However, every word should add value.

We analyze top-ranking content in our clients' niches to determine optimal content length and depth.
